J. WISE HAGINS, Editor.

Miss Cora Landrum has been on the sick list for the past week.

L. T. Boller has moved to the C. O. Cardwell residence on Court street.

Elijah Noble has accepted a position as salesman with Crawford & Co.

Wm. Belcher has purchased of M. S. Crain a house and lot on River street.

Rev. Wm. Lawson got his fingers cut off by a saw in a mill near Robbins last week.

Kelly Kash was in West Liberty from Saturday until Monday on professional business.

Richmond voted out the saloons in a local option election there Tuesday by a majority of 148.

Miss Abbie Bailey invites an inspection of her new stock of millinery which she has just received.

Misses Nancy and Eliza Spencer, of Oakdale, visited the family of G. W. Sewell during the past week.

Sam Cole and family will move to Oregon in a few days, where Mr. Cole has bought property.

J. L. Hagins, who has been living in Madison county for the past five years, has moved back to Jackson.

Bascom Walters has accepted the position of saw filer and saw hammer at the Swann-Day Lumber Company's mill.

J. R. Blake is building an addition to his store. Faris Back is the contractor. O. C. Hall is doing the plastering.

Thos. Hood has purchased of C. J. Little, a lot 40x54 feet near the corner of College avenue and Broadway for $1,000 cash.

Misses Mollie Beach and Mildred Beatty, of Beattyville, were visiting Misses Margaret and Emma Crawford during the week.

We send our laundry out every Monday night and get it Wednesday morning.

A. L. Hagins has purchased Archie Cope's store house near Capt. A. C. Cope's residence and will move to it in a few days.

Mrs. Finley E. Fogg, of West Liberty, passed through Jackson Monday en route to Mt. Sterling to spend a few weeks visiting her former home.

Mrs. H. M. Brown and her little son, Henry Martin, of Asheville, N. C., who have been visiting her sister, Mrs. Girton, for the past month returned to their home Monday.

We call attention to the ad of E. L. March Furniture Co., of Lexington, appearing in this issue; They carry one of the best stocks in Central Kentucky and will treat you right.

Capt. Henry Collins has purchased the restaurant on Broadway next door to the Baptist church. He will run a first-class restaurant and will keep a nice line of fancy groceries, fruits, candies, etc.

A few months ago Kentucky was asking why Carnes, of all the legal talent in the State, was discovered and appointed by the Governor to try Hargis. Kentucky has more light on that point now—New York Commercial.

The entrance to the offices of J. C. Bach and Kelly Kash in the club building, has been changed from the front of the building to the rear, the approach now being from Broadway. An attractive sign is now seen hanging from this approach, as a guide to be-nighted litigants in search of legal light.

Easter comes March 31st this year, and both young and old will want a new suit. If you are desirous of getting the best in style, quality, fit and workmanship, goods that will retain their shape and color, we cheerfully refer you to Noble & Noble, where only such goods can be had in Jackson. They also have an up-to-date line of men's furnishing goods, shoes, hats, etc. You will make a mistake if you fail to see their stock.

ANOTHER SUIT.

Jim and Elbert Hargis and Ed Callahan Sued for $100,000.

Suit to recover $100,000 damages was filed Tuesday evening in the Fayette circuit court at Lexington against Jim and Elbert Hargis and Ed Callahan by T. P. Cardwell, Sr., of Jackson, guardian for Edward Cox, Lucie Cox and Brackie D. Cox, children of Dr. B. D. Cox and infants under fourteen years of age. In the petition it is alleged that the defendants, Jim and Elbert Hargis, and Ed Callahan, conspired together with each other and with John Smith, John Abner and Asberry Spicer and others names are not known to murder Dr. B. D. Cox. It is further alleged that the Hargises and Callahan and their associates did on April 13, 1902, murder Cox.

Damage Suit Sent to Bourbon.

After a lengthy discussion by the attorneys on each side, Judge Moody Tuesday afternoon granted the change of venue asked by the defendants in the $100,000 damage suit of Sam Jett against the Hargises, Fult French and Ed Callahan, in the Clark circuit court. The defendants objected to Powell, Madison or Jessamine counties. The attorneys for both sides finally agreed to Bourbon county.

It Pays to Advertise in The News

The Clark county tract of land, which was advertised for sale in The News was sold Wednesday to G. D. Hieronymous, a News subscriber, of Lee county, for $125.00 per acre. It pays to advertise in a paper that has the circulation The News enjoys.

MASS MEETING.

The Republicans of Breathitt county are hereby called in mass convention on Saturday, April 6, 1907, in the circuit court room in the court house in Jackson, Ky., at one o'clock p. m., on said day, for the purpose of nominating a candidate for the House of Representatives to the next Kentucky Legislature, to represent Breathitt county.

All citizens of Breathitt county who believe in good government machine rules, regardless of party affiliation, are invited to present and take part in said convention.

Given under my hand as Chairman of the Breathitt County Executive Committee, this 12th day of March, 1907. J. B. McLIN, Republican Chairman Breathitt County Committee.

Little Love Stories.

A marriage license has been issued to L. C. Bohannon and Mrs. Margaret Howard, both of Rouseau.

Luther Woods and Miss Rosa Hatton, both of Boxer, were married at the Clerk's office Monday, Rev. Harry Thompson, officiating.

Queen Chapman, of Jackson, and Miss Mahala Simpkins were married at the residence of the bride, on east Main street, Wednesday night, Rev. W. W. Powell officiating.

Married, at the residence of the bride's parents, at Herald, Ky., W. D. Back, of Jackson, and Miss Emma Herald, daughter of Breck Herald, on March 7, Rev. Granville Houshelt officiating. The bridal party arrived here Friday afternoon where a brilliant reception was tendered them by their friends at the home of the groom.

Gospel Meeting.

An old time gospel meeting will be held in the court house next Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, by the Welch Preacher, Evan R. Evans. Admission free and no collection will be taken on the inside. Miss Rogers with her children's choir and violin will be in attendance and will render several selections. Mr. Evans, in a plain and simple manner, will endeavor to tell the wonderful story of old, the story of the Cross. Come and hear it. The Lord willing, rain or shine, the meeting will be held, so come everybody. On Sunday night Mr. Evans will also hold a meeting at the McCormick Chapel, opposite the railroad station, at which time his subject will be, "The Best Thing in the World." Miss Rogers and her choir will also be at that service.

A Pleasant Party.

A pleasant party of young misses and their gentlemen friends were entertained on last Saturday evening at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Henry S. Barnett, on the Heights, in honor of Miss Mattie Landrum, of Lost Creek, a pupil of Lees Institute. Innocent and amusing games were indulged in, and there was music and singing.

One of those present composed a poem in honor of the debut of Miss Landrum as a pleasantry of the occasion, which was read by another. Printed copies were distributed to those present as souvenirs.

Mrs. Paul Dérthick assisted in entertaining, and her brother Sergeant James H. Washburn, here on a brief leave of absence, was the liveliest among the swain. He is in line for promotion and is a native of Bracken county, Ky. Sergeant Washburn left Tuesday to join his company at Fort Assiniboine, Montana.

Following is the poem:

HER FIRST TRANSGRESSION

I am only a simple beauty,
A child, the old folks say;
They forbid me to have a lover
I carroll the live-long day;
They think my heart is merry;
With lover far away,
But Johnny will come to me to-night;
Oh! what will my Mama say!

CHORUS.

Oh! what will my Mama say!
With the boys not kept at bay;
I'm afraid that she will scold me—
Oh! what will my Mama say!

CHORUS.

Last night I saw my lover,
Oh, fie, with a round-e-lay!
And now I'm off to a boarding school—
Where they will say me nay;

My heart is as sad as a thrush's
That nurses its wound;—well-a-day—
And my lover he pines in the mountains
For his true one far away!

CHORUS.

Oh! what will my Mama say!
Oh! what will my Mama say!

Oh! what will my Mama say!
Oh! what will my Mama say!

Oh! what will my Mama say!
Oh! what will my Mama say!

CHORUS.

I was Queen of the Breathitt beauties—
A radiant maiden and fair;
The lovers flocked about me,
My heart was as light as air;

I was dressed like a real lady;
But my heart it was far away—
To a knoll on a beautiful mountain—
Oh! what will my Mama say!

CHORUS.

I lay awake in the midnight,
My eyes were wet with tears;
But—oh, I was so happy;
I remember it now thro' the years;

I dreamed of him soft and sweetly
For my lover bold and gay
Came and claimed me in my dream
Oh! what will my Mama say!

CHORUS.

Oh! what would my Mama say!
My lament is a round-e-lay;
I know that my Mama will kiss me—
THAT'S WHAT

MY MAMA

WILL SAY!

Moonshiners Taken to Frankfort.

Nancy Combs, of Perry county, aged 19, was taken to Frankfort Monday to be tried on the charge of running a blind tiger. Several men charged with moonshining, arrested in Breathitt, Morgan and Wolfe counties, accompanied her on the trip. In the number were Green Neace, Wm. Allen, John Hughes, Andrew Campbell, John Combs, Potter N. Baker, Clayborn Combs, Perry Grady, Robert McLash, Robert O. Smith, Richard Good, Fred "Col" Bush, Fred Joseph, Albert Williams and Chester Back.

Miss Cora Ewen Entertains.

Miss Cora Ewen entertained a number of friends at her home in South Jackson Tuesday evening. The evening was spent in many interesting games and pastimes and music. Brilliant literary quotations and interesting recitations were also features of the evening's entertainment, the principal recitation being given by Miss May Sewell. Music on the piano and violin was furnished by Mrs. Flannery and Miss Rogers. The guests were Misses Eliza Spencer, of Oakdale; Kate, May and Nancy Sewell, Miss Beach, Miss Rogers and Mrs. Nell Flannery, and Will Hopper, Virgil Atkinson, Fred Cope, Ben Sewell, Arthur Snowden, Kelly Kash and Tom Marcum.
